ASK LAW TO BAN RADIO TERRORS

NEW YORK, Oct. 31 (AP)—Thousands of terror-stricken radio listeners throughout the country fled from their homes last night when they tuned in on a series of synthetic news broadcasts which depicted the beginning of an interplanetary war.

The stimulated news bulletins, which accompanied a CBS dramatization of H. G. Wells's fantasy, "The War of the Worlds," became so realistic that they sent a wave of mass hysteria across the continent. The broadcast was intended only as fiction.

Explanatory announcements during the program, between 8 and 9 p. m., were overlooked by thousands who were led to believe that a poison gas expedition had arrived from Mars and was spreading death and destruction over the New York metropolitan area.

Demands for an investigation multiplied in the wake of the broadcast.

DEMANDS LEGAL BAN

Senator Clyde L. Herring (D) of Iowa, said he planned to introduce in Congress a bill "controlling just such abuses as was heard over the radio last night. Radio has no more right to present programs like that than someone has in knocking on your door and screaming," he added.

City Manager Paul Morton of Trenton, N. J., near the locale of the fictional invasion, said he would demand an investigation by the Federal Communications Commission "with the view of preventing recurrence of what happened." Some apartment houses in New York were emptied hurriedly by frantic listeners to the program—and by second and third-hand accounts that multiplied the impending peril.

ONE TRIES SUICIDE

A woman in Pittsburgh tried suicide, saying: "I'd rather die this way than like that."

At a high point in the program the electric power failed at Concrete, Wash., a town of 1000, and the lights went out in most of the homes. Many thought the invasion had reached the west coast.

Women fainted, and men prepared to take their families to the mountains.

Switchboards in newspaper offices and police stations everywhere were swamped by calls from terrified people, many of them weeping.

Some reported they could smell the gas and see the flames started by the attackers.

THOUSANDS PRAY

People gathered in groups to pray for salvation.

All over the metropolitan area panicky persons jumped into their automobiles and headed for the open spaces to escape the hypothetical bombing of New York.

Church services here and elsewhere were broken up by intruders.

Here's What Caused Panic

NEW YORK, Oct. 31 (AP)—Here's what caused the panic among radio listeners throughout the United States last night:

The Mercury Theater of the Air program started out in routine fashion with announcement of a few bars of music.

Suddenly—"We interrupt our program of dance music to bring you a special bulletin . . . Twenty minutes before eight, Professor Farrell of the Mt. Jennings observatory, Chicago, reports several explosions of the incandescent gas occurring at regular intervals on the planet Mars."

A moment after the build-up announcement of gas explosions on Mars, the scene of the fantasy switched to Princeton, N. J., where an astronomer undertook to "explain" the phenomena.

Then a meteor "struck" at nearby Grover's Mill to interrupt the professor, who rushed out with the announcer to investigate.

Monsters Crawling Out

It was a giant tube of metal, they reported, not a meteor at all.

"Just a minute," the announcer called. "Something's happening! Ladies and gentlemen, this is terrific!"

"The end of the thing is beginning to come off. The top is beginning to rotate like a screw! The thing must be hollow."

There was a babble of voices as fictitious spectators grew alarmed.

"Look! The darn thing's unscrewing . . . Keep back! Keep back, I tell you! . . . Maybe there's men in it, trying to escape! . . . It's red hot. They'll burn to a cinder . . . Keep back there . . . Keep those idiots back!"

There was a clanking sound of falling metal—then more voices:

"She's off! The top's loose! Look out there! Stand back!"

Suddenly the "monsters" began crawling out . . . their "firearms" proved to be death ray machines . . . 200 spectators died instantly. "The governor of New Jersey" declared martial law.

War Spreads Its Terror

Through the drone of airplane motors came radio reports of army pilots to headquarters:

"One machine partially crippled. Believed hit by a shell from an army gun . . . a heavy black fog—of extreme density, nature unknown . . . objective is New York City . . . We're ready to attack! . . . They're closer! . . . There they go! . . . a giant arm is raised . . . they're spraying us with flame!"

An "operator" cut in: "Poisonous black smoke from the Jersey marshes . . . gas masks useless . . . urge population to move into open spaces."

"The bells you hear ringing are to warn the people to evacuate the city as the Martians approach," came the announcement "from a point in New York."

"All communications with Jersey closed! . . . Our army wiped out! . . . This may be the last broadcast! . . . We'll stay to the end."

Then: "I've just been handed a bulletin. Cylinders from Mars are falling all over the country. One outside Buffalo—another in Chicago—St. Louis."

The announcer kept on: "People are dropping like flies! . . . The poison gas spreads! . . . Just as the continent was 'toppling' into oblivion, the real announcer cut in to explain that the audience had been listening to a dramatization of Wells' book."

Clubwoman Kills Self in Waban Woods

After slashing her throat with a carving knife, the body of Mrs. Dorothy B. Wilson, 38, prominent Newton clubwoman, was found in a patch of woods near her home by her husband, Edmund G. Wilson.

Dr. T. Morton Gallagher, medical examiner, summoned by police, gave a verdict of suicide.

The victim's husband, an electrical engineer, told authorities that his wife and been ill for some time and only recently suffered a nervous breakdown.

The couple made their home in Pontiac road, Waban, exclusive residential section.

Wilson said that his wife arose early, dressed and left the house. Noting her disappearance, Wilson began to search the neighborhood and nearby woodland.

Several hours later he found the body with a carving knife alongside. He said he was attracted to the spot by the bark of her pet dog.

Beside her husband, Mrs. Wilson, a former dancing instructor, leaves two sons, 12 and 10 years old.

Harvard Boy Dying In Fall Off N. H. Cliff

NASHUA, N. H., Oct. 31—Victim of a 50-foot fall down the precipitous face of Joe English mountain in New Boston, J. F. Meigs, Jr., a Harvard senior, was near death in Memorial Hospital here today.

At his bedside were his parents, Lieutenant Commander John F. Meigs, U. S. N., retired, and Mrs. Meigs, who raced to Nashua from their home in Havre de Grace, Md., in a wild, all-night auto ride.

Dr. W. James Mixer, noted Boston surgeon and brain specialist, operated on young Meigs today in a desperate effort to save his life.

Dr. L. F. Richards, chief of staff at the hospital, said the victim had a broken leg and a severe skull fracture. J. F. Meigs, Jr., "He hasn't a chance," Dr. Richards asserted.

The accident occurred yesterday as young Meigs and fellow members of the Harvard Mountaineering Club attempted a hazardous climb up the face of Joe English mountain.

The cliff they tried to scale is a sheer face of rock, more than 400 feet in height, a New Hampshire landmark.

Meigs was being hoisted by a rope when he fell.

CARRIED TO HIGHWAY

Companions improvised a stretcher with coats and saplings and carried the unconscious youth foot by foot down the cliff, then through heavy woods to the road.

There they administered first aid, where was sent for help.

As best they could, while a messenger from the hospital arrived in a car, the accident occurred yesterday as young Meigs and fellow members of the Harvard Mountaineering Club attempted a hazardous climb up the face of Joe English mountain.

The nearest telephone is miles from the scene of the accident.

An ambulance finally arrived from Milford, 20 miles distant, and young Meigs was rushed to Memorial Hospital here.

Murder on Alcatraz

Thrilling Fact :: Not Fiction

By P. F. REED

(Ex-Convict Just Released from Alcatraz Prison)

(Copyright, 1933 by San Francisco Examiner and the Boston Evening American)

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 31—Hell on wheels was rolling toward Alcatraz on the afternoon of May 23.

But a dime's worth of celluloid got in the way.

Murder on Alcatraz Not Fiction

The real inside story of killings, escapes, strange happenings on "Hell Rock" in San Francisco Bay, told by a convict just released from Alcatraz, a man who lived through every event he describes, a man who carefully noted every detail of the twisted lives of the convict colony, because he intended to write their story when freed. Now he is free and he writes for the Boston Evening American a story more startling and more revealing than anything that has yet come out of that Devil's Island that is Alcatraz.

P. F. REED

The story of San Francisco's "Devil's Island"—its beatings, murders, escapes and the working of the strange minds that inhabit "Hell Rock" is told today for the first time.

P. F. Reed, discharged only two weeks ago from the United States penitentiary on Alcatraz Island, herewith begins a vivid narrative on events he witnessed, stories that spread over the prison "grapevine," the famous prisoners he knew on "the Rock."

Reed, counterfeiter, sentenced from San Francisco, served 49 months in the prison which authorities have sought to shroud in secrecy; 49 months in which he amassed such a wealth of Alcatraz lore as has never before come out of the American "Devil's Island."

He deliberately went about the business of finding out what was going on around him, and why. He made a point of studying the kidnappers, the postoffice robbers, the once highly-publicized public enemies who were his fellow-convicts.

This he did in accordance with a promise made to himself when transferred from Leavenworth in 1934—a promise to acquire material for the first authentic book on Alcatraz prison.

He begins this narrative today with the inside story of the killing of Royal C. Cline, first Alcatraz guard to die "in the line of duty"—a killing for which Jimmy Lucas, convict, goes on trial today.

"The Rock" was all set for the most murderous prison uprising in modern history. The scheme, hatched weeks before, called for a general prison delivery; every con who wanted to go home was going to go home.

It was a desperate, foolhardy scheme, but it was engineered by desperate, foolhardy men, and it came within a hundredth of an inch of scoring—a hundredth of an inch being about the thickness of that celluloid.

As it was, one guard's skull was smashed in, and three cons went up against the guns. And while two of them were stopping slugs and the third was turning violently yellow, three dozen others were waiting to jump in and carry out their assignments. They're still waiting—because of two thin sheets of celluloid.

Otherwise, "the Rock" would have been taken over by 300 convicts and San Francisco could have looked across a mile and a quarter of water at the merriest kind of merry hell.

Those 300 cons would have had plenty of guns and ammunition; they would have had personal grudges to satisfy against guards—and against each other. They would have held the warden and his despised "custodial officers" as hostages.

Don't ask me who figured it all out. I don't know, but I'm certain it wasn't Tom "Big Sandy" Limerick, who stopped more lead than he could handle. It wasn't Rufus "Whitey" Franklin, who got himself shut up.

And it certainly wasn't Jimmy Lucas, who took a dive and came up with nothing more serious than a chance to sit down—with Franklin—in California's new gas chamber.

Whoever did figure it out was half smart, which is something nobody could say about Sandy or Whitey or Jimmy. I believe that only Big Sandy, of those three, ever really knew who did the master-minding. I think Limerick was picked because he had lots of guts and no sense; he was a gee who never would stool.

Limerick was told to pick his own chumps and to tell them nothing. Franklin was three-quarters tough and not very bright; he could be handled. Lucas had spent his three years on "the Rock" talking himself into the job; he was always running off at the mouth about how tough Lucas was.

As a matter of fact, he was yellow clear through—as he proved when the time came. But he was always talking a good caper, telling everybody how smart and how tough he was. So Limerick took him at his own estimate and declared him in—no doubt fooled by the fact that Lucas DID go after Capone with a pair of scissors. But that was a typical Lucas caper—he tried to cop a sneak on Capone and wilted fast when the sneak missed.

40 OTHERS SET

Besides Limerick and his two stooges, the brains of the break had about 40 others ready to take a part. Of these, probably three knew what it was all about, and the rest only knew that they were going home—maybe.

At least two others were asked to come in but decided, for hygienic reasons, to stay out. To show how one of these things shakes itself down, and also to show how far a con will go to keep in right with other cons, I'll tell you about them.

First, there was Rufus McCain, who used to be a con-guard at Tucker Farm, Arkansas, but who is now doing two bits—35 years—for postoffice robbery. A week before the break, McCain stepped completely out of character, and went after Ralph Sullivan, a short-timer, with a knife.

It was a good-looking knife, with a ten-inch bronze blade, but it didn't hurt Sullivan. McCain never intended it would. He waited until a stack was within reaching distance and then made a wild pass at Sullivan, who never had done him wrong. The guard reached over and lifted the knife out of McCain's hand.

FLOTS FOR SOLITARY

So McCain went to the hole for 15 days, which was all right with him. He planned it that way. He knew the break would come while he was in solitary, and that under such circumstances he couldn't be blamed for staying out of it. He knew that somebody was going to get hurt.

Blonde 'Alibi' In Holdup Case

Pretty, 18-year-old Alice Stevenson, Ashford street, Allston, was the blond alibi of 19-year-old John A. Hendrick, Jr., when he was arraigned before Judge Daniel A. Rollins in Brookline district court today on a charge of armed robbery.

Warrants Out For Baby Bride, Hubby, Mother

PRESTONSBURG, Ky., Oct. 31 (AP)—Floyd County Judge Edwin P. Hill today signed warrants for Fleming Tackett, 34, his child-bride, Rose, and her mother, Mrs. Grace Columbus.

The warrant against Tackett, charged him with rape. Rose, who was reported as "under 14" in a second warrant, was charged with being a delinquent child growing up in "idleness and crime. Medical records show Rose is 19 years old.

Mrs. Columbus was charged with conspiring with Tackett "in the crime of rape upon the person of Rose Columbus."

Judge Hill said officers went to the Tackett cabin in the hills near here early today but found no one there.

Hill said the Tacketts and Mrs. Columbus were reported to have gone to Paintsville in adjoining Johnson county and that Floyd county officers had taken the warrants there.

County Attorney Forrest D. Short earlier had said a guardian for Rose, a bride of a week, would be sought.

Duce Inaugurates Huge Radio Center

ROME, Oct. 31 (AP)—Premier Mussolini today inaugurated a new imperial radio center near Rome which he called "the most powerful in the world."

He Duce broadcast greetings to all Italians in the colonies and in foreign lands "who everywhere are proud of being Italians."

Chauncey F. English, Winthrop road, Brookline, "positively" identified Hendrick from the witness stand as the youth who held him up the night of October 9 as he was putting his car away, took $30 and his overcoat and stole his car, which was later recovered.

Miss Stevenson, however, contradicted English's testimony.

She and young Hendrick, she testified, had spent the day and evening of October 9 together. They had gone to church together that morning, she related on the stand. That afternoon, she said, they went to the movies, and that evening he had supper at her home.

They spent the evening together in her home, she testified, and went out later to a restaurant in Allston.

Returning home, they had a "lovers' quarrel," she told the court, and she told how her sister ran down the street after young Hendrick and brought him back when he walked off in a huff.

THEY "MAKE UP"
She was in tears, she testified, but she added, smiling, they "made up."

Miss Stevenson testified she kept a diary, and the diary itself was introduced in evidence. Its entries for October 9 corresponded with Miss Stevenson's statements on the stand.

Other witnesses to substantiate her testimony were to be introduced later, Hendrick's attorney indicated.

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Germany, Oct. 31 (AP)—With 80 persons aboard, including a crew of 45, Germany's latest dirigible, the LZ-120, took off this afternoon on her final trial 24-hour flight before being taken over by the Zeppelin company.

MARGUERITE NOLAN

Hunt Lawyer In Death Of Girl

Cambridge police today sought a Greater Boston lawyer for questioning following the death of Miss Marguerite Nolan, one-time personal telephone operator and secretary to former Mayor Mansfield, in the room of a "mysterious stranger" in a William street rooming house.

Miss Nolan, unclad except for a man's shirt about her shoulders, was found dying on the floor of the "strangers' room" by Mrs. Edward Morrisseau, the landlady. Mrs. Morrisseau told Chief Inspector John J. Canney she heard the "mystery man" leave the house hurriedly about an hour before. The man rented the room Saturday, giving an address in Plymouth, Mrs. Morrisseau said. He told her, she related, that he was a plumber and steam-fitter, and that his wife died 18 months ago. How Miss Nolan reached his room, Mrs. Morrisseau said she had no idea. Police said there was some indication of what might have been a struggle.

She was dead by the time police got her to Cambridge Municipal Hospital. Acting Medical Examiner Donald E. Currier said death was due to ecchymosis of the brain. Her identity was established through an out-patient card from Boston City Hospital, found in her pocketbook.

Snores of Wife Figure in Suit

Would you recognize your wife's snores? Walter S. Hall did, he told Judge John V. Mahoney in Suffolk probate court today.

The snores came from behind a closed door of a hotel room in Lynn, Hall testified.

And, he testified, when he finally got into the room he found Dr. Adam E. Cole, Swampscott physician, present "but partly dressed."

Dr. Cole, Hall testified, sought to hide in a wall-closet in which an in-a-door bed is kept when not in use.

Hall said he and Mrs. Hall, the former Margaret Kelley, were married in Belmont, October 12, 1928. "Trouble" started in 1931, he testified after Mrs. Hall went to Dr. Cole for a tonsil operation.

The doctor never sent her a bill, although she had "many treatments," Hall testified.

Hall further testified that on one occasion he found her and the doctor standing at the rear of the house in a Boston burlesque theater. The doctor had his arm around Mrs. Hall. Hall testified, and a fight ensued.

He trailed the doctor and Mrs. Hall to a Lynn hotel the night of March 16, 1936, he told the court. Hearing his wife's snores, he said, he demanded admittance to the room, but he could not get in.

"I peeked under the door and saw my wife's bare feet," he said.

Hall testified he went home, but returned about 4 a. m. and this time gained admittance to the room by saying he was "the janitor."

Hall produced a notebook as he testified that he kept account of all this "troubles" with Mrs. Hall.

Mrs. Hall is contesting his divorce suit with a cross-bill of her own. She charges cruel and abusive treatment.

Hall, a bank clerk, lives on Park Drive, Back Bay. Mrs. Hall is living in Washington street, Brighton.

Roosevelt Will Press for Law To Aid Roads

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31 (AP)—John J. Pelley, president of the Association of American Railroads, said today President Roosevelt had promised him he would do everything possible to get a constructive program for rehabilitation of the carriers enacted into law.

Mr. Roosevelt expressed the hope, Pelley said, that such a program would be drafted by the informal committee representing railroads and rail labor which the President named several months ago.

Pelley said the President had asked him to ascertain the attitude of the railroads toward the fact-finding board's report recommending cancellation of the proposed 15 per cent wage cut.

Pelley said he agreed to do so, adding his "best guess" was the management would hold a meeting in Chicago next week to outline their stand on the report.

Pelley said the President "feels quite hopeful that through this committee he will get recommendations that will result in a constructive program for the railroads."

"He promised to do everything possible to get such a program enacted into law," Pelley added.

250 MILLION ANNUALLY
The President's emergency railroad investigating board recommended Saturday that the railroads withdraw their notices of the reduction, which would clip $250,000,000 annually from their payroll.

Before the White House conference there was no indication whether the roads would accept the recommendation. A committee of the carriers' executives was asked to meet during the day.

Eloper Newhall Held in $2500

George Everett Newhall, 25-year-old Winchester truck driver arrested when he was found with 18-year-old Shirley Smith in Lexington, N. C., pleaded not guilty to Mann Act charges when arraigned before Federal Judge Hugh D. McLeelan today.

Bail was set at $2500. Unable to furnish that amount, Newhall was remanded to the custody of the United States marshal, to be taken to East Cambridge jail until bail may be raised. His mother and sister visited him in the marshal's office.

NEWHALL ARRAIGNED—Pleading not guilty to Mann Act charges involving Shirley Smith, Winchester girl with whom he was found in Lexington, N. C., George Everett Newhall receives sympathy of mother as he is led off to cell.

Defense Acts to Save Scared Alcatraz Felon

Special to Boston Evening American

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 31—It makes no difference whether James "Toughy" Lucas has been driven actually insane by Alcatraz system, or whether he's simply scared literally speechless by fear of death in San Quentin's lethal gas cell—the truth remains that the man is utterly incapable of putting up a rational defense to save his own life.

That will be the plea of the felon's attorneys today when they stage an 11th-hour move to stave off the trial of Lucas for complicity in the escape-attempt murder of Alcatraz guard, Royal C. Cline.

Harold J. Faulkner, counsel for Lucas, revealed today that when the trial of Lucas and his pal, Rufus "Whitey" Franklin, is called before Federal Judge Harold Louderback in a gun-guarded courtroom he will file a "plea in bar," asking Judge Louderback to let a jury pass on the question of whether or not Lucas can defend himself.

Lucas merely sits—sometimes in a chair, sometimes on the floor—when Faulkner goes to interview him "on the rock." The prisoner sits staring at his hands or the floor, doesn't appear to hear his attorney's questions or remarks, and never says a word in return.

France Awaits Daladier Plan To 'Save' Nation

(Copyright, 1938, by International News Service)

PARIS, Oct. 31 (INS)—Almost the entire population of France today waited with tense anticipation for indications of new Premier Edouard Daladier's intention to regulate the nation's prosperity and appease internal discord.

This atmosphere of expectancy followed Daladier's announcement at his Radical Socialist party's Marseille convention of the complete repudiation of the "Popular Front" partnership with the Communist party.

Every Frenchman realizes that only the most drastic economic, financial and social measures can save the country from bankruptcy and possibly worse.

Daladier and Finance Minister Paul Marchandeau returned to Paris from Marseille this morning.

Marchandeau told newspapermen: "Most of the financial and economic decree laws have been prepared for days. They have been carefully studied."

He refused to indicate their nature.

The wildest rumors have been spread in stock exchange and government circles.

Drastic financial laws must be promulgated immediately to protect the franc and restore the entire financial equilibrium of the country.

Further devaluation is not expected by many since that would upset the tri-partite Anglo-French-American balance of currency and tend further to weaken France's trade relations with foreign countries.

But exchange control and the prohibition of gold hoarding are being openly discussed.

Every Frenchman is speculating on what other measures will be.

With the budget for this year in deficit, and with the country facing the prospect that next year's national expenditures will reach a peace-time high of 130,000,000,000 francs (approximately $2,800,000,000), everyone knows that the decrees may be harsh.

New 'Red' Hero List Omits Bluecher

MOSCOW, Oct. 31 (AP)—Long lists of names of persons decorated for service in the Far East fighting with Japan at Changkufeng last August again crowded Moscow's newspapers today. The new lists raised to more than 6500 the total honored.

The name of Marshal Vasily Blucher, famed commander of the Red army in the Far East, has not been mentioned. This fact and disappearance of his pictures from art shops has caused speculation as to what has become of him.

Czech Arbiters To Meet in Vienna

Germany and Italy will be arbitrators in the controversy which arose from Hungary's sweeping demands for annexation of large portions of Czechoslovakia's provinces of Slovakia and Ruthenia.

Carol Becomes Royal Dictator

(Copyright, 1938, by International News Service)

BUCHAREST, Oct. 31 (INS)—Caught between the rival fire of Nazi Germany on the west and Communist Russia on the east, King Carol has seized the occasion to don the mantle of a royal dictator with absolute power to make final decisions regarding the destiny of Rumania.

The rapidly changing European scene and the perils with which the situation is fraught—especially in the smaller European countries—has led Carol to adopt a policy of concentrating as much power as possible into his own hands in order to cope with the neighboring dictatorships.

Whether or not Rumania will actually fall into line with Nazi Germany remains to be seen. Carol appears to be playing a game of watchful waiting—waiting to see in which direction the wind blows before deciding which way to veer.

"SHOPPING AROUND"

While he has made himself a sort of Rumanian carbon copy of the Fascist and Nazi dictators, the fact he will soon visit London indicates Carol is "shopping around" for position.

With Nazi Germany casting its shadow over Southeastern Europe in an effort to impose its domination on that part of the continent as well as Central Europe, Rumania is being sandwiched in more and more between Communist and Fascist ideologies.

The result has been a virtually complete abandonment of the last remaining vestiges of parliamentary government in Rumania.

Before Munich this country felt relatively secure, with its long-standing economic and political ties to France and the French-sponsored little entente.

But the Munich accord revived

the principal of "self determination" among minorities and therefore placed Rumania deeper within the vortex of the contending Fascist and Bolshevik systems.

Nazis 'Warn' Jews in America

BERLIN, Oct. 31 (INS)—With German-Polish negotiations about to open in Warsaw tomorrow, between 800 and 12,000 Polish Jews departed from the Reich today were being slowly accommodated in homes or special camps.

In Germany many more thousands who had been taken to the Polish frontier were transported back to their residences to await outcome of the negotiations.

Fate of the latter group hangs in the balance, but it seemed certain today that all Jews in the Reich face a new program of anti-Jewish retaliation.

Warning came in the form of placards plastered on practically all Jewish shops in northeast and southeast Berlin. Referring to an alleged attack on a party of German tourists by Jews in Amsterdam, the placards said:

"We will no longer tolerate tormenting and beating up of our German compatriots abroad by vermin," and added parenthetically "Jews."

The placards also were construed as a warning to Jews in America and the rest of the world to cease attacks on Germany as a result of the deportation of the Poles, otherwise the Jews in Germany will suffer.

At least nine deaths have been reported among the ousted Jews.

Lindy Plans Return to Berlin

BERLIN, Oct. 31 (AP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, recently decorated by Germany, in whose aviation program he has shown keen interest, expects to return here in about a month to continue his interrupted visits to airplane factories and laboratories.

His intention was disclosed today in a letter to Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering, German air minister, offering thanks for the hospitality extended the Lindberghs during their recent 12-day visit.

Democracies Tatter as New Europe Arises

The multiplying vicissitudes besetting Democracies in Europe in the wake of the four-power Munich settlement dismembering Czechoslovakia are graphically portrayed in the following special dispatch by William Hillman, London correspondent for International News Service. Hillman reports the results of a first-hand survey he has just completed in a trip through Europe during which he interviewed several statesmen, including Polish Foreign Minister Jozef Beck.

By WILLIAM HILLMAN

(Copyright, 1938, by International News Service)

LONDON, Oct. 31.—The hurricanous of fascism and dictatorship are menacing more and more the remaining torches of democracy on the continent of Europe.

Even in France, largely because of internal discord, parliamentary institutions are being exposed to grave peril.

NEW EUROPE ARISING

In central and eastern Europe there are only a few signs left of that type of political and economic structure which would be recognizable as democratic to statesmen of a decade ago. A new Europe is arising.

Democracy is striving to survive in the midst of a rising contest between the dictatorship of Fascism and the dictatorship of Bolshevism.

In the background of this struggle lurk the beginnings of a new and historic pressure by the populations of the great Central European areas, dissatisfied with meager livings and searching for an outlet to the East.

This is the picture I gathered from conversations with statesmen and impartial observers with whom I talked during the past week.

SOVIETS CHALLENGED

The Soviet regime which sought not only to exploit the rich resources of Russia but attempted to spread its influence westward is now being challenged by the dictatorial powers seeking fresh fields of their own to exploit.

Hitler's acquisition of Czechoslovakia's Sudetenland and his success in breaking the ring of alliances around Germany, now reveal that the road leading in the direction of Russia is open.

Although Polish Foreign Minister Jozef Beck was the first European statesman to seek an understanding with Germany, a policy he is still maintaining, Poland remains somewhat suspicious of Germany's intentions.

But Beck, like Poland's "strong man" Inspector General Edward Rida-Smigly, was a lieutenant of the late dictator, Marshal Jozef Pilsudski. Beck therefore remembers Pilsudski's warning that Russia's Bolshevism is a real danger to Poland.

U. S. Protests Jap Search of Courier

HANKOW, Oct. 31 (AP)—Tightening of Japanese military restrictions in Hankow resulted in incidents today which led to protests from United States and British authorities, but amicable settlements were reached.

The United States protest was made when a United States naval messenger was searched by Japanese sentries. A similar incident involving British sailors brought a British protest.

Police Goblins Won't Getcha Tonight, If--

Boston's cops—those who can be spared from regular duty—are going to romp and play as Halloween hosts tonight to thousands of youngsters in a monumental effort to end the Halloween "problem."

To take the place of the old-fashioned celebration of destruction, police have arranged parties for thousands of youngsters in municipal buildings, police stations and private halls in the 15 police precincts of the city.

Police and youth organizations have planned similar programs of good fun and eats in virtually all communities throughout Greater Boston.

The parties, where "apple ducking" and other pastimes are scheduled, will begin at 7 p. m. and continue until 10 o'clock.

In Chelsea is scheduled the "horrible parade" of the Starbeam Club.

Franco Leads New Big Drive

HENDAYE, French-Spanish Frontier, Oct. 31 (INS)—Insurgent Generalissimo Francisco Franco, while mourning the death of his brother, today personally directed the opening of a large-scale offensive on the Ebro river front of Catalonia.

Seven hundred Spanish soldiers were taken prisoner, according to insurgent advice, when Franco's forces drove the government army out of the Caballeros Mountains. Fourteen government planes were reported shot down.

The generalissimo's brother, Lieutenant-Colonel Ramon Franco, 42, former air attaché at the Spanish embassy in Washington, was killed Friday when his seaplane crashed into the water near Palma, Mallorca.

Machine Records Heart's Action as Bullets End Life

SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 31 (AP)—A firing squad executed John W. Deering at dawn today in state prison while an electro-cardiograph recorded, probably for the first time, action of the human heart pierced by bullets.

Deering, who had sought in every way to speed his death and who participated willingly in the scientific experiment to determine how long his heart would beat after being struck, was calm to the end.

The five man firing squad was given the order to fire at 6:46 a. m. M. S. T. and at 6:48 1/2 a. m. Deering was pronounced dead in expiration for the May 9 holdup murder of Oliver R. Meredith, Salt Lake City businessman.

There were ominous clouds against the pale sky over the mountains as Deering was led quickly from his cell block and strapped in his chair against a prison wall.

ONE FIRES BLANK

Electric wires were attached to his wrist and carried to a delicate machine his last heart beats. Scientists began an immediate study of the record but said it would be a number of hours before they could announce a finding.

Utah is the only state using a firing squad. Convicted men are given the alternative of this or hanging. One of the five rifles used is loaded with a blank.

EYES WILLED BLIND

The five marksmen who acted as executioners were recruited by Sheriff Young, their names kept a secret. They were taken to the prison in a closed car, given rifles and placed behind a curtain. As soon as they fired, they left as unobtrusively as they had come.

Convinced there was no place in society for him after half his lifetime had been spent in prison, Deering demanded the state take his life. He had served prison terms for arson at San Quentin and for burglary at Folsom, both in California.

Then he sought to make restitution by giving his body to the University of Utah. He willed his eyes to the state that any blind person might obtain the corneas for transplanting to restore sight. No one has asked for them.

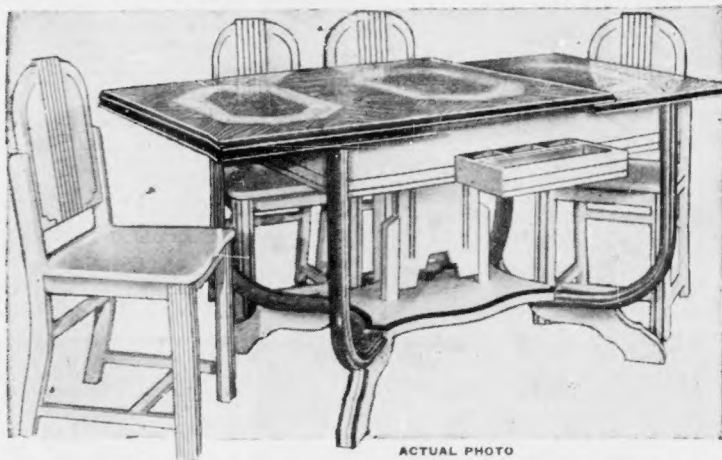

KILLED BY 60-FOOT FALL

Isadore Kauffman, 23, Cobb street, South End, a roofer, was killed today when he fell 60 feet from a rooftop on Forsythe street, Back Bay, where he was working. He was rushed to City Hospital, but was pronounced dead on arrival.

Gale Hits N. E.; Ships Tied Up

A roaring northeast gale lashed "hurricane-conscious" New England today, tying up coastwise shipping, toppling already weakened trees and flooding many ocean-front highways.

The big Eastern Steamship liner New York, bound to Boston from New York with 700 passengers, was forced to dock at Buzzard's Bay.

In many Greater Boston districts motorists were endangered by falling trees and hurtling branches. Police said trees and poles, weakened by the hurricane of a few weeks ago, toppled easily under today's blasts.

Telephone and power line repair crews still at work restoring service wrecked by the hurricane had to suspend activities or continue it under highly hazardous conditions.

The weather bureau reported the gale reaching 45-mile-an-hour velocity, but said the disturbance was the "tail" of a storm which had already reached its peak, far at sea.

No recurrence of real hurricane winds need be feared, the official forecasters announced.

A fleet of ten New England Transportation Company buses was sent to bring the storm-bound travelers here.

MAYOR ON LINER

Among the New York's passengers was Mayor Maurice J. Tobin.

With his secretary, Joseph Kelly, he came to Boston by taxicab. "I slept right through the gale," the mayor said. "When I woke up this morning, we were docked. I thought we were in Boston. But ship's officers told us weather was bad north of Cape Cod, so we wouldn't attempt the trip."

With a group of Roxbury friends Mayor Tobin had attended the Notre Dame-Army football game, Saturday, and a banquet in New York Saturday night.

All along the Massachusetts coast, small fishing boats and pleasure craft were blown from their moorings and swept ashore.

BULK SINKS INTO SEA

Heavy surf pounded sea walls and flooded adjacent streets and boulevards.

Today's gale finally completed the destruction of the wrecked City of Salisbury, British steamship which went on rocks off Graves light last spring, while bringing a cargo of wild animals.

Capt. Angus Quits Fishing, Turns Showman

Captain Angus Walters of the Nova Scotia salt banker Bluebonnet is turning showman.

He'll never go fishing again, unless his plans go awry and he gets hungry.

Angus aims to take the big Lunenburg schooner down to Florida some time before New Year's and cash in on her reputation.

Then he will take her to the World's Fair in New York next year and repeat.

The hardy Canadian, in high spirits after his Frank Merriwell victory over the Gertrude L. The-baud in the international races, explained that the Bluebonnet never was planned as primarily a fishing schooner.

She was built to carry cargoes of salt fish to the West Indies, and cargoes of salt back to his home port.

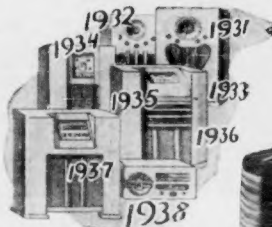

Angus' cherished Dennis cup, the trophy in race, has been recovered. It was mysteriously delivered at the New England Home for Little Wanderers, while he was fanning the air and vociferously demanding that it be returned to him.

Battle of Candidates

Aged 'Fooled'
Curley Says

The Boston Evening American today presents another in a series of articles concerning the aims, ambitions and aspirations of the Democratic and Republican gubernatorial candidates, James M. Curley and Leverett Saltonstall.

These articles will be published daily for the remainder of the state election campaign.

Mr. Saltonstall is the author of his own statements. The Curley articles are furnished by the Democratic State Committee.

By the Democratic State Committee

James M. Curley presents to the people of Massachusetts a program of intelligent action that dares to be specific.

The Republican platform, shocked at the recent devastating storm and flood, offered sympathy to the victims and recommended engineers be authorized to determine "whether the needs of our various communities can best be met by the construction of reservoirs, dykes, dams," etc.

No mention of when or how they propose to act; no mention of the fact that this work has already been done by the State Planning Board under James M. Curley's administration. There is nothing to indicate they have any knowledge of the report prepared by the Planning Board in collaboration with the War Department engineers, at a cost of $30,000, and filed at the State House nearly two years ago.

Mr. Curley's program, of course, is based on the investigation and research all fully set forth in the nearly 1000-page report of the State Planning Board.

He has pledged himself to go to Washington immediately after the election and use every power and resource at the command of the governor-elect to persuade those in authority, including President Roosevelt and General Markham, chief engineer of the War Department, to allocate $120,000,000 for flood control in the valleys of the Connecticut, Blackstone and Merrimack rivers.

To the followers of Dr. Townsend, the Republican platform threw a stone, painted to look like bread, a cruel political deception attempted upon the needy aged.

Leverett Saltonstall promises "adequate assistance to the aged, within his conception of the state's ability to provide such assistance. How nourishing to hungry stomachs."

James M. Curley's program provides for lowering the age requirement from 65 to 60 and increasing to a flat $40 the present maximum payment of $30 per month.

BROCKTON QUINCY MALDEN
WALTHAM SALEM MANCHESTER, N. H.

By LEVERETT SALTONSTALL.

The founders of our great country left us a heritage—a democratic form of government, safeguarding people of every race, creed and color.

Advocates of tyranny and dictatorship tell us democracy has failed. Although I served overseas in the war that was to end all wars, the way that was to preserve democracy, and have seen the rise of despots to power, I tell you that democracy has not failed.

The trouble is that we have not used democracy.

In some of the countries of Europe, the less the citizen participates in the government, the better it is for him. In America the more we participate in our government, the better our government works.

Our mistakes have been made when we were indifferent, elected officials who did not have the moral fibre nor the will to serve the people honestly.

On the other hand, whenever the people were aware of the true situation, they have always decided rightly.

That is why we shall go forward to victory Nov. 8. Massachusetts demands honest service in every department of our government.

They recognize the need for intelligent action, but to them intelligent action means honest action.

Under my administration, we will insist labor receive its rightful share of the profits of industry, and that industry be given an opportunity to go ahead on a stable basis, so that business may provide real jobs at real pay for the unemployed.

TAKE POLITICS OUT OF RELIEF

Citizens, before you vote, ask these questions of all candidates for Congress:

Congress:

"Do you stand for the principle that there must be no political control or influence in the handling of relief funds, pump-priming money, agricultural benefit money or social security money?"

"Do you favor the principle of having all such public expenditures supervised by a non-partisan, non-political board employing civil service personnel?"

"Do you pledge yourself to work for the proper measures to put these principles into practical operation?"

Peggy Bars Tuition Fund;
Packs Up to Return Home

Sorry she couldn't be graduated from Lynn English high school with her classmates but happy she found she had so many friends, pretty, blonde Margaret "Peggy" Court was packing her clothes to leave Lynn tonight for Irvington, N. J.

Her parents moved to Irvington some time ago, when her father, James Court, found work there. Because Peggy couldn't pay $125 tuition as a non-resident pupil at Lynn English High School, she was notified she could no longer attend classes there.

Schoolmates, rallying to her cause, announced they would take up a collection at Saturday's Lynn-

Revere football game, thus obtaining funds for the necessary tuition. But Peggy—until now a boarder at the home of a chum, Norma Clark, in Maplewood street, Lynn—said today:

"I refuse to let the collection be taken. But I'm almost glad it all happened, because it proved to me how many friends I had."

"I'm going to get my diploma in Irvington High School in February. Then I'm coming back to Lynn to work."

Green, Fr. Coughlin Endorse Curley

By ALFRED D. WHELTON

Each faced with nearly 40 rallies, former Governor James M. Curley, Democrat, and Leverett Saltonstall, Republican, today swung into the final week of campaigning for the governorship.

Curley, carrying a new endorsement from William

Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, and an unexpected advocacy of his stand on wages from Rev. Charles E. Coughlin, famed radio priest, swung into a new tack with blasts on the Republican party as a whole as well as the candidacy of his opponent.

Curley today announced a new campaign slogan, "Curley for Governor," and a new slogan for the Republican party, "Saltonstall for Governor." He also announced that he would accept the endorsement of the American Federation of Labor.

Lumber Business Has Sharp Rise

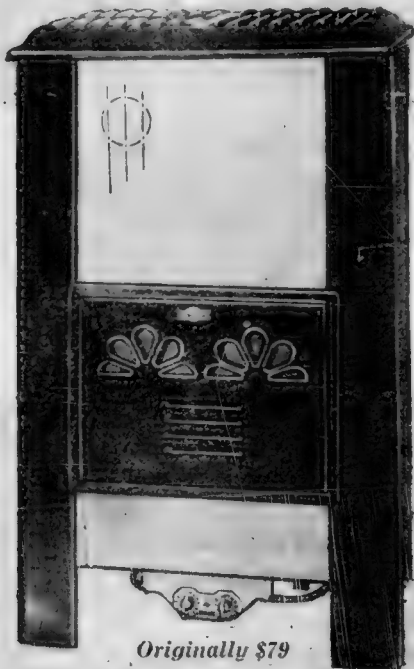

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31 (AP)—The National Lumber Manufacturers Association today reported a sharp rise in lumber prices during the week ended Oct. 22. The association reported that the average price of lumber had risen 10 cents per board foot.

Ankles Swollen, Backache, Nervous, Kidneys Strained?

If you're feeling out of sorts that the doctor has told you that your kidneys are strained, you're not alone. Many people suffer from this condition, which is often the result of a long, hard day's work, or of a sudden change in the weather. The kidneys are the filters of the body, and when they are strained, they can cause a variety of symptoms, including backache, swollen ankles, and nervousness. The good news is that there is a simple, effective way to relieve these symptoms and restore your kidneys to their normal state of health. It's called Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. This famous kidney medicine has been helping people for over 50 years, and it's still the most popular kidney medicine in the world. It's made from natural ingredients, and it's gentle on the stomach. It's the only kidney medicine that's been recommended by the American Medical Association. So if you're feeling out of sorts, or if you're worried about your kidneys, try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills today. You'll be back to your normal state of health in no time.

Dies Air Talk To Press Feud

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31 (INS)—Chairman Martin Dies, of the special House committee investigating un-American activities, today charged that the Administration had cancelled a series of national defense programs over the Mutual Broadcasting System because that network had given him time on the air for a speech tonight.

The Diesmen went still farther and accused the White House of "bribe and pressure to buy" on Mutual to allot time to Paul F. Anderson, St. Louis newspaperman, to follow Dies on the radio to answer the charges.

Anderson will speak at 11:15 p. m. and has promised to answer the charges in a series of broadcasts with Dies.

Anderson's speech, which is being broadcast on the Mutual Broadcasting System, was scheduled to be broadcast at 11:30 p. m.

PRESSURE BROUGHT

"It appears a coincidence," Dies asserted, "that two national defense speeches by Secretary of War Woodring and General Arnold, chief of the air corps, scheduled over the Mutual Broadcasting System should have been cancelled after I had been granted time."

"Assistant Secretary of Navy Edison spoke on the defense question as the first of three speeches scheduled in the series, but that was before I got radio time. Both Woodring's and Arnold's speeches were cancelled Saturday. The excuse given was that the President had not completed his national defense investigation."

Anderson said as I announced I was taking the air Monday night, pressure was brought from the White House on the mutual broadcasting industry system. Of course, the whole broadcasting industry is under the thumb of the administration because permits to operate are limited to six months."

Anderson said that he had sought time on another broadcasting chain for his speech, but that the Mutual Broadcasting System had refused to grant him time.

PWA JOBS CANCELLED

Anderson said that he had sought time on another broadcasting chain for his speech, but that the Mutual Broadcasting System had refused to grant him time.

He added, however, that he was not concerned in the cancellation of the speeches were due to the administration's disapproval of the methods of the committee. He said one of the projects for a $12,000,000 dam at Rowland, Tex., was cancelled.

Gain of 40% In Sales of Hub Radio Co.

The Hub Cycle & Radio Co., one of the pioneer radio manufacturers in New England, and distributors of Emerson radios for Eastern Massachusetts, Maine, New Hampshire, and southern Vermont, has reported a gain of 40 per cent in sales of Emerson radios for the year ending September 30, 1933. This was an exceptional record for the company, and was due to the fact that the Hub Cycle & Radio Co. has been awarded the Silver Cup trophy for the year ending September 30, 1933, in the annual sales contest, which is held in New York City. The trophy is awarded to the company which has sold the greatest number of Emerson radios during the year.

Emerson Has Outstanding Sales Gain

The outstanding gain in sales by the Emerson Radio and Phonograph Corporation in 1933 clearly indicates why radio makes a great business.

So great has been the demand for Emerson radios that the company has had to expand its production facilities to meet the demand. In fact, the company has produced more radios than in any previous year.

J. Terhouts, founder and president of Hub Cycle & Radio Co.

Buttons Make Tuning Simple On Emersons

Many of the new Emerson models are designed with the mechanical automatic tuning system which provides buttons that automatically tune the dial when each is depressed.

The adjustment knob is simple. Any station can be tuned to any station desired and adjustment of the button to the station is made by merely turning the lower tuning knob clockwise with a twist of a finger.

Since the dial turns during the adjustment, it is possible to see exactly what station is being tuned. Other stations in addition to the station being tuned can be tuned in with the manual tuning knob in the same manner. Manual tuning is also possible.

This push button tuning system is the first of its kind and operates in a simple manner. It is a feature of Emerson radios that are equipped with buttons in order to get exact tuning. The push button tuning system makes the tuning of Emerson radios simple and prevents the frustration of manual tuning. The Emerson tuning system is not accurate.

BANDS ACROSS THE SEA

Emerson's Most Impressive Set

An Emerson combination radio and phonograph, that is the ultimate in elegance and performance, exemplifies an extreme contrast in size and price to the sets for which this maker is famous.

The combination known as No. N-175 has 15 tubes, 15 watts output and a 15 inch dynamic speaker. It receives all American and foreign programs.

The cabinet is a masterpiece of the cabinet maker's art, fashioned of figured walnut with hand of carving. Equipped with 10 large size record albums and an automatic record changer for the phonograph, playing 10 or 12 records, then records of one kind may thus be played in continuous.

The impressive size and appearance of the set is visualized from these dimensions: 48 inches high, 14 inches wide and 19 inches deep. The price? Suffice to say that a set of this kind would of necessity interest only people of unusual taste. A significant point to add is, that one was sold recently in Greater Boston.

MIRACLE INSTAMATIC
Tuning is the feature of this Emerson model in walnut or ivory cabinets. Adjustments for stations desired accurately and easily made on front of cabinet... no tools necessary. It is a 5-tube AC set.

Emerson Radio Sales Increase

AC set 142 power, soon made possible the mass production of these compact models. In 1937 it is claimed that Emerson sold 5 per cent of all the table radios produced that year. Proof that this was not due entirely to the extensive network of dealers in existence, the rapid growth of the business is shown.

When Emerson's new line of compact models was introduced, it was a surprise to the radio industry. The new sets were small, light, and easy to carry. They were also very attractive in design.

The most recent expansion is the addition of Eastern Vermont territory, joining the Hub Radio & Cycle Co. 600 dealers organization. Over 1000. Forty of these dealers are located in Greater Boston. With new sales points, Emerson registered a new record of 11,000 radio sales prior to June 1, 1938. Both J. Emerson and Mr. Hook, with full confidence that no outstanding record in combination units and in dollar volume was established in 1938 on Emerson radios and on radio and phonograph combinations.

Knickerbocker Says:

War Still Sure; Hitler Can Win

By H. R. KNICKERBOCKER
International News Service Staff Correspondent
Copyright 1938 by International News Service

NEW YORK, Oct. 31 (INS)—War yesterday was a probability, and the defeat of Hitler Germany a certainty. War tomorrow is a certainty and the victory of Hitler Germany a strong possibility. The "Peace of Munich" made Hitler the master of Europe, and will cost tomorrow the lives of many million more men than were risked yesterday.

Hitler's victory yesterday was not a surprise. It was the result of a long and careful preparation. He has been building up his army for years, and he has been working to win the support of the German people. He has been using every means to make himself invulnerable. He has been using every means to make himself invulnerable. He has been using every means to make himself invulnerable.

ALL IS CHANGED
Yesterday's victory was a turning point in the history of the world. It has changed the balance of power in Europe. It has changed the minds of the German people. It has changed the minds of the German people. It has changed the minds of the German people.

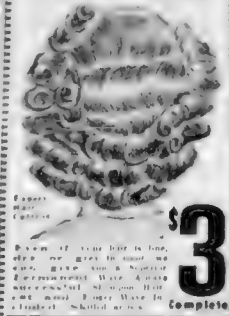

TELEGRAM BROKE CHAINS
Mr. Churchill, who fears that the new German policy will mean a new world war, has broken the chains of silence. He has spoken out against the German policy. He has spoken out against the German policy. He has spoken out against the German policy.

Dafoe Visions Superior Race

By C. B. LAL

Copyright, 1938

NEW YORK, Oct. 31 (INS)—Dr. Allan Roy Dafoe, world famous for his remarkable nurture of the Dionne girls, predicted the development of a new, superior race in North America as the result of certain scientific trends, in an exclusive interview today.

"The Dionne sisters are the first quintuplets, born prematurely from a single fertilized cell, who have survived and grown normally."

"What has given the medical profession as well as the public real ground for optimism was the simplicity of what was achieved. Only well-known methods of medical care were applied."

"If these children, born two months prematurely, have grown up so well, why should not the normally born babies flourish as well as the Quins have done and better?"

"There is no doubt that heredity is important. But good care, proper diet and sound medicines, as in the case of the Quins, help out of birth."

"Every child born in this world has a right to be properly nurtured. Every child must be placed in the hands of a competent doctor, well, in the months before its birth."

"And the baby should be in the hands also of a competent nurse from the first birth day on."

"Thus, too, a young child, eye specialist should keep on eye on the baby's vision. Every case of cataract could not be watched and treated. Later operations on tonsils, adenoids, mastoids and what not, must be considerably reduced, almost eliminated."

"As for the use of the vitamins, they must be present adequately in the child's diet. But let us not buy vitamins by the pound."

"I am fully aware of the economic difficulties of many people in obtaining such medical, dental, psychological care for the unborn and born babies as I have urged."

"Whatever can be done to insure a decent compensation for the medical men, on the one hand, and an adequate medical care for the babies and the adults of the nation will reward us in the growth of a better generation."

"Then alone the full promise of the new world would be realized."

Good Invention? Car Thief Thinks So

Two attractive automobile accessories, valued by the owner and stolen by a thief, were caught by the police today. The thief, a young man, was arrested after a chase through the city streets. The accessories, a car radio and a car horn, were found in his possession. The thief was charged with larceny and is being held in custody.

Nannie Gets Cops' Goat!

A Belmont goat believed to be a victim of amnesia has a police record this morning, and a lot of Belmont police officers have a desire to get into the open air and take long, deep breaths. Before Nannie was locked in a cell, she devoured a rubber plant and was making progress with a chair.

The goat then sighted Miss Alice Kennally, 22, school street, Belmont, and decided she had a nice, kind face.

Following the girl home, she hid in her room inside.

VA-TRO-NOL

DIVE into the old store room and pick out all the button-books! You'll need them in your dressing room if you're going to wear any of the entrancing new buttoned shoes! We called the "Floradora," the high-throated shoe the model holds. Your instep may be as high as Brooklyn bridge, but this shoe will mold it firmly and beautifully because it is elasticized. And we were joking about the button-books after all. This is a slip-on! Repeat your pet pleated frock's feature in an open cocktail sandal shown at the left. These are pleated over the toes and the instep. And influenced by the fantasies of the World Fair, the spool heel appears on a comfortable suede shoe, meant for feet that do things vigorously . . . whether it's walking or jettisoning. For shopping information on these fall shoe fashions, phone Anna Brink, Fashion Editor, Liberty 4000, week-days until five thirty or write her at the Boston American.

Sift Ex-Newton Girl's Death

EVANSTON, Ill., Oct. 31.—Police today released young, socially prominent Richard W. Nichols after questioning him for nearly 12 hours and submitting him to a lie-detector test, following the mysterious death of his wife, Mrs. Marion Nichols, 29-year-old daughter of a Massachusetts Institute of Technology professor.

Chief only in pajamas and side slippers, the former Newton girl was found dead in the street near her home. Her shoes were found nearby.

Her father, William Henry Nichols, professor of electrical engineering at M. I. T., whose home is in Highland avenue, was in Newton at the time of the tragedy.

Mr. Nichols told Evanston police that Mrs. Nichols was afflicted with nervous troubles in this summer, bringing her two young daughters, Wendy, eight, and Lily, toward a graduate of Williams College, class of 1937, in a research engineer.

Four Hold-Over, One New Play on Week's Drama Menu

"Lightnin'" Opens With Fred Stone as Star

By PEGGY DOYLE

"Lightnin'" 20-year-old comedy hit revived on Broadway recently by Producer John Golden and Cameo Fred Stone, comes to the Colonial tonight to further illumine Boston's Rialto.

Following are the scores of the week's offerings:

The show, which had a preview at the Cape Playhouse in Dennis last summer, has a plot to live up to—if you don't mind a sentence ending with a comma. Way back in 1918 the comedian comedy convulsed audiences in 1291 performances in Manhattan's Time Square Theatre.

Producer Golden, who also directed the current production, is convinced that "Lightnin'" will repeat its past performances. He is based on the philosophy of the contends, is ageless. The decision rests with you, my readers.

The Vinton Freedley musical comedy, "Leave It To Me," which repeats that classic team of William Gaxton and Victor Moore, will go on forever, the Shubert office take indicates.

Gala Revue At Columbia

Frances McEvoy and her "Colonial" top the South Ends' drama theater this week. There is a new show.

Young McEvoy has been in the spotlight for a week. She is the star of the new show, "The Girl Who Came to Supper," which is a new production of the Columbia Theatre. The show is a new production of the Columbia Theatre. The show is a new production of the Columbia Theatre.

Assisting performers are: Mary Kay, Charles "Champ" Hays, Horace Page, Floyd Hays, and Eugene Yarnall and Billy Hays.

MR. BOSTON

Boxing Pops Back Amateur Ring Men
On Sports Page Hold Limelight

By JACK CONWAY

BOXING WILL stage a comeback now that the racing season has closed in Massachusetts . . . Boxing promoters found it difficult to compete against horse and dog racing . . . As the dog racing was held at night, it furnished direct opposition to boxing shows . . . The Golden Glove finals at the Arena tonight will benefit by the fact the dog racing season is over . . . The four trial shows of the Golden Glove tournament were filled with action, and the finals are sure to be jammed with thrills.

Mr. Boston

Then will come the Hearst All-America bouts which have been a highlight in amateur boxing during the past two years . . . The trial bouts will be conducted at the Arena on November 7, November 14, November 21 and November 28 . . . The New England finals will be dropped in at the Garden on December 5, while the All-Eastern finals will be staged at the Garden on December 12 . . . The survivors in the All-Eastern finals will journey to Detroit in January for the grand national finals . . . Last year I thought the All-Eastern finals surpassed the grand national finals for boxing class and sturdy punching . . . Remember that terrific bout in the heavy-weight class between Joe Rubin of New York and Frank Chludinski of Hyde Park? . . . Chludinski almost knocked Rubin out in the first round . . . The New Yorker weathered the tistic storm and came out to win the decision . . . Rubin won from Joe Hill of California in the grand national finals.

There will be eight classes for experienced boxers as well as for novices in the Hearst All-America . . . The classes are 112, 118, 126, 135, 147, 160 and 175 pounds, and in the heavyweight division . . . The novices will be pitted against boys of equal ability, and will wind up their end of the tourney at the New England finals . . . The more experienced boxers will receive an opportunity to continue into the grand national finals.

Tucker Ford, national 135-pound champion and winner in the 1937 and 1938 of the Hearst All-America New England trials, will represent this country from South America in time to compete in the grand national . . . The winners in tonight's Golden Glove trials, as well as the other contestants, will also compete in the final trials of the Hearst All-America tournament.

The Hearst All-America tournament is open to every amateur boxer in New England . . . Send in your entry today, and bid for the high ring honors . . . Joe Louis, Jack Sharkey and other ring greats got their start battling in amateur tournaments.

Harvard as "Big Three" Champion

AS I POINTED out last week, Harvard has an excellent chance to clinch with the football championship of the "Big Three" . . . Last Harvard team proved its superiority to Princeton in the season, and it is better than an even chance of winning from Yale . . . Harvard gave Dartmouth a close battle, while the "Big Green" gave Boston College a 1-0 victory . . . I hope you had a $2 ticket on the football program for you, Harvard, Dartmouth, and Notre Dame . . . I predict the Irish to win from the Army on the field. The Celtics need a win from Harvard . . . Notre Dame was powerful enough to win from Carnegie Tech, and so figured to stop the Indians from coming . . . Holy Cross looked like one of the best teams in the country as it walked Colgate.

There was only one way to eliminate Holy Cross' one-point defeat by Carnegie Tech . . . When Boston College got rolling against the University of Florida, it certainly went to town . . . The East in College Box Cross game this year should be worth watching . . . Boston University is still taking it on the chin . . . Western Reserve has one of the best defenses in the Middle West and has crushed over Pitt Handley's outfit.

The University of Chicago comes to the Stadium on Saturday, and Harvard should score its second victory of the season . . . Torbert Macdonald looked like All-America against Princeton . . . Joe Cassman has rated Macdonald with Eddie Mahan, Charley Brickley and other Harvard greats . . . Yale will remember the playing of Captain Bob MacLeod of Dartmouth for a long time . . . MacLeod is the best college football player in New England . . . Brilliant on the offense MacLeod is also tops on the defense.

How did "Auntie" Hoteliers also found their share of fare in the Yale game . . . That Yale Bowl game has been loaded with drama . . . The crowd of 20,000 fans who saw the game did not do the crowd with this statement:

Irish President Greets Hubert Valentine

JACK McGRATH showed me a cable from his representative in Ireland telling how President Douglas Hyde expressed satisfaction at the singing of Hubert Valentine, Irish tenor who has accepted a nomination of $100,000 for an American tour . . . The cablegram read as follows:

"Hubert Valentine, Ireland's leading tenor, graciously received by President Douglas Hyde . . . Expressed great interest in Valentine's work, and was delighted to learn that repertoire included poem written by him 40 years ago and now set in music by Dr. Vincent O'Brien . . . Extended sincere good wishes for American trip . . . Valentine will appear in concert at Symphony Hall in Boston and in Carnegie Hall in New York during his American tour."

Only Rain Can Halt Match Race

BALTIMORE, Oct. 31 (AP)—The weatherman was the fair-haired boy today as the match race of the night, the showdown tomorrow between Seabiscuit and War Admiral, started the zero hour of starting time on Pimlico's main track at 11 and three eighths of a mile.

Barling a forfeit, only one horse can postpone the scheduled and for the first time since the war between now and a 30-day interval, when the Jockey Club will meet to decide the fate of the match race.

Barling a forfeit, only one horse can postpone the scheduled and for the first time since the war between now and a 30-day interval, when the Jockey Club will meet to decide the fate of the match race.

A forecast of partly cloudy and warm weather for the next few days is a good omen for the match race, which will be held on the main track at Pimlico.

THURSDAY, Oct. 31 (AP)—The match race between Seabiscuit and War Admiral will be held on the main track at Pimlico on Thursday, Oct. 31, at 11 and three eighths of a mile.

Seabiscuit, owned by Calumet Farm, will be ridden by Red Pollack, and War Admiral, owned by Phipps, will be ridden by Charles Bell.

Pastor N. Y. Title At Stake Tonight

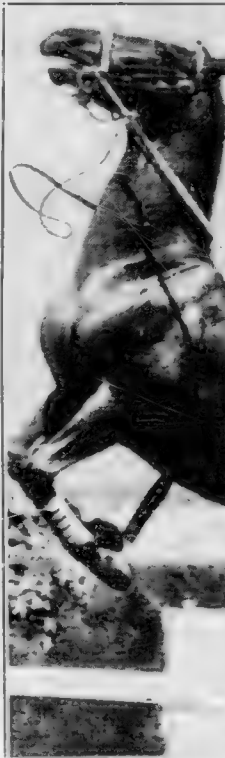

NEW YORK, Oct. 31 (AP)—For whatever it is worth, Bob Pastor, pastor of the New York City Central Synagogue, tonight title on the Buck when he meets Big Boy Brackley of Buffalo in a ten-round bout tonight.

It is Pastor's first fight in several months. He was slated to meet Gunner Ralston in September but got himself with an eye injury.

Different Temperaments

BALTIMORE, Oct. 31 (AP)—Seabiscuit and War Admiral, who meet tomorrow in the race of champions, have the normal equipment of four feet, one tail and one head each, but it's just about there that their similarity stops.

They are horses of altogether different temperament. Sam Hiddle's War Admiral is the typical thoroughbred; on edge from the word go, eager to be off, but usually calm at the post. He gets away fast and keeps going the same way.

'Breather' Week

Holy Cross-Temple Brown-Yale Tops

With the exceptions of the Holy Cross-Temple game at Worcester and the Brown-Yale tilt down in New Haven, there are no outstanding football attractions listed for this weekend.

After beating Princeton, Coach Harlow will rest up his Crimson charges for Yale. Harvard lacks replacements this fall and many of the Crimson players, particularly Captain Bobby Green, who played throughout the 60 minutes, are down fine and require a layoff before taking on the Elis.

Coach Harlow will use the Chicago game to get a line on some of his untitled material and, although he'd appreciate another victory, the Crimson mentor is not going to risk any of his key players to beat the Maroon.

Boston College will entertain Bo McMillin and his Indiana University squad at Fenway Park while the Terriers are scurrying around trying to find a site to play home at Tampa University.

Down at Brunswick, Bowdoin hopes to take Maine into camp and thereby get a tie for the Pine Tree State championship with the winner of the Bowdoin-Colby game on Armistice Day.

After six straight wins, Dartmouth will take another "breather" this week at Hanover playing Dickinson. The Big Green waded through Princeton, Brown, Harvard and Yale on successive weekends and is now entitled to a let up.

Up in the Western part of the state, the Amherst-Williams game is the outstanding attraction.

Interest in the Big Ten will center around the battle between Northwestern, conquerors of the Minnesota Golden Gophers, with the Intersectional Penn-Michigan getting a heavy play at Ann Arbor.

The Irish will return to the Atlantic Seaboard to meet Navy on Saturday, and every football enthusiast in the Smoky City is trying to buy tickets for the Pitt-Carnegie Tech battle.

Down in the "Deep South," Duke will lay off and Tennessee is listed to warm up against Chattanooga, so the Alabama-Tulane game rates the star billing, and out on the Coast the California-Southern Cal has the call.

Budge Beaten Again

LONG BEACH, Cal., Oct. 31 (AP)—J. Donald Budge's tennis let-down went to a new low when the king of world amateur players was trimmed by Jack Tidball of Los Angeles in a three-set exhibition.

In dedicating the new grass court of the Long Beach Tennis Club, red-haired Don met his fourth defeat in the past five weeks. He hadn't been beaten that many times in three years of international campaigning.

Tidball, despite 11 double faults on his service, won by scores of 6-2, 2-6, 6-4.

Ice Championships Go to St. Paul

NEW YORK, Oct. 31 (AP)—There will be no trials for the 1940 United States Olympic figure skating team, but the skaters will have plenty of chances to exhibit their ability this winter and at the same time help raise funds to finance the team.

The association awarded the 1939 national championships to the St. Paul Skating Club to be held January 19, 20 and 21.

At a meeting, the Olympic committee of the United States Figure Skating Association completed plans which call for the selection of a team on the basis of performances in the national and North American championships and other important meets.

RISATTI WINS

BUENOS AIRES, Oct. 31 (AP)—Ricardo Risatti won the 15,000 pesos Argentine grand prize automobile race. He drove the distance of 7342 kilometers (4562 miles) from Buenos Aires to La Plata, in 38 hours, 58 minutes, 53.45 seconds.

Dobie Outfit Show Weakness On Pass Defense

By WALTER KILEY

Boston College should be forgiven if its football legions vision a rosy future.

Not even the arrival next Saturday of Bo McMillin and his Indiana Hoosiers can quench the long cherished ambition of an undefeated season.

With all due respect to the Hoosiers, first Big Ten Conference team to play the Eagles in history, and to St. Anselm and Boston University which follow, it would look, from this fairly early vantage point, that Holy Cross represents the lone serious stumbling block.

That post-Thanksgiving Day renewal of an ancient rivalry even now takes on impressiveness and shapes up as the gridiron masterpiece of this New England season.

INDIANA POWERFUL

Reports, however, from the Midwest indicate that Indiana is a far more powerful and dangerous team than its dismal record shows.

When the season opened the Bo McMillin's were rated with the football greats. But a cog slipped somewhere along the line so that as the squad prepares to forge Boston-wards, it comes without a victory, with defeats to Ohio State, Illinois, Kansas State and Wisconsin, and a scoreless tie with Nebraska.

Weekly it becomes more apparent that the Eagles have unearthed a "real" sparkplug in Charlie O'Rourke.

Though only a sophomore, this heady runner has won himself a world of admirers and before his college days are over should take his place among the Boston College football immortals.

It was O'Rourke who sparked the Eagles against Florida last Saturday. It was he who was the spearhead of the attack, both on ground and through the air.

And it was he who forced the lift and the dash after having brought about the five-touchdown parade after the Heightsmen had gone scoreless through the opening half when he was perched on the sidelines.

WEAK ON PASSES

Gil Dobie has a powerful football team at Boston College. Few are the teams which will gain ground consistently against it. Few teams boast a more potent power attack. But the weakness which permitted Temple to come from behind and so surprisingly pull out a 26 to 20 tie, is still in evidence. It's the Eagles' defense against passes, a weakness still apparent and dangerously so for a few minutes during the first half of the Florida game.

Goalie Loses Leg;

Fans Root for Return

HALIFAX, N. S., Oct. 31 (INS)

Sportsmen today are hoping Regie Sawler, crack 17-year-old goal keeper of the Halifax Maroons hockey team, will continue in the game despite the amputation of his right leg by surgeons.

Sawler's leg was riddled by two shotgun discharges while hitting with his father, Percy Sawler. Young Sawler was running to retrieve a buck when the accident occurred.

The young hockeyist, who also is a junior oarsman at the North Star Aquatic Club, remained conscious long enough to show his dad how to operate the car.
